[G] What's the matter with the [Bm] clothes I'm wearing ?

"Can't you [F] tell that your tie's too [C] wide ?"

[G] Maybe I should buy some [Bm] old tab collars ?

"Welcome [F] back to the age of [C] jive."

[Bm] "Where have you been hidin' [Em] out lately, honey?

You [Bm] can't dress trashy till you [A] spend a lot of [D] money."

[G] Everybody [Bm] talking 'bout the [F] new sound, [C] funny, but it's [Em] still rock and [D] roll to [G] me.

[G] What's the matter with the [Bm] car I'm driving?

"Can't you [F] tell that it's out of [C] style?"

[G] Should I get a set of [Bm] white wall tyres?

"Are you [F] gonna cruise the miracle [C] mile?"

[Bm] "Nowadays you can't be [Em] too sentimental, your [Bm] best bet's a true, baby, [A] blue Conti-[D]nental."

[G] Hot funk, [Bm] cool punk [F] even if it's [C] old junk, it's [Em] still rock and [D] roll to [G] me.

Oh, [D] it doesn't matter what they [C] say in the papers, 'cause it's [Bm] always been the same old [E] scene.

There's a [D] new band in town but you [C] can't get the sound from a [Bm] story in a maga-[Eb]zine, [Bb] aimed at your average [C] teen. [D]

[G] How about a pair of [Bm] pink sidewinders and a [F] bright orange pair of [C] pants?

[G] "Well, you could really be a [Bm] Beau Brummel, baby, if you [F] just give it half a [C] chance."

[Bm] "Don't waste your money on a [Em] new set of speakers. you [Bm] get more mileage from a [A] cheap pair of [D] sneakers."

[G] Next phase, [Bm] new wave, [F] dance craze, [C] anyways, it's [Em] still rock and [D] roll to [G] me.

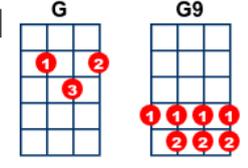

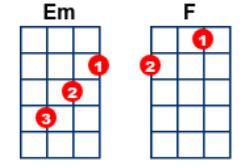

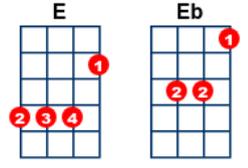

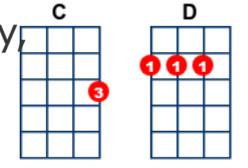

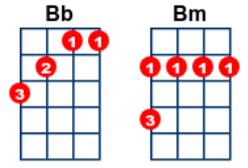

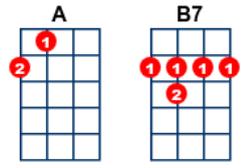

[D] - [C] - [B7] - [Em] - [D] - [C] - [B7] - [Eb] - [Bb] - [C] - [D]

[G] What's the matter with the [Bm] crowd I'm seeing? -

"Don't you [F] know that they're out of [C] touch?"

[G] Should I try to be a [Bm] straight A student?

"If you [F] are, then you think too [Bm] much".

[Bm] "Don't you know about the [Em] new fashion, honey?

[Bm] all you need are looks and a [A] whole lot a [D] money."

It's the [G] next phase, [Bm] new wave, [F] dance craze, [C] anyways, it's [Em] still rock and [D] roll to [G] me.

[G] Everybody's [Bm] talking about the [F] new sound, [C] funny, but it's [Em] still rock and [D] roll to [G] me. [G9]
